See PAGE 3 and TABLOID Insert

HERE'S $50,000 IN COLD CASH, $20,000 in silver dollars and $30,000 in $2 bills, which will be used by trailer people during the annual Trailer Rally and Trailer Life Show now under way at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds. The special silver dollars and $2 bills will reflect the amount of buying that is done by trailer people in local stores. Trailer Show Queen Diana Dumas holds an armful of money, while Police Officer Bob Johnson watches from the safe door. Others pictured above are, left to right, Roy Clayton, Trailer Coach Association Show chairman; Orvil Zappe, manager of the Security First National Bank, Cathedral City; Rex Thompson, president of the Trailer Rally Association; and Bob Wynne, Security First operational supervisor, and Emmett Connors, assistant manager, Security First National Bank, Ramon and Indian branch.

Ike's Cabinet Secretary Set At Rally Here

President Eisenhower's cabinet secretary, Robert Gray, will address a Nixon-Lodge rally of the Palm Springs Republican Assembly when it meets at 8 p.m. Saturday, in the Tennis Club here.

The major speaker of the evening, however, will still be U. S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel, previously announced by the Assembly for the event.

Also scheduled to be on hand for the Saturday program will be Harvey G. Myrdland, president of the California Republican Assembly; Charles Jameson, candidate for Congress; Lee Backstrand, candidate for State Senate, and Gordon Cologne, candidate for State Assembly.

Speaking for the Young Republicans will be Larry Hart.

Soviet Union Has Nuclear Subs—Nikita

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union has nuclear-powered submarines armed with rockets.

He made the statement without elaboration during the course of a speech in which he reported on the 25 days at the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

"The American generals and admirals cannot but know that our country also has submarines equipped with atomic engines and armed with rockets," Khrushchev said in his two-hour and 20-minute speech.

CONCERT, FLAG RAISING

United Nations Week Events Set

A concert presenting the international balladeers, Josef Marais and Miranda for the benefit of UNICEF (this Saturday at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium) will inaugurate a series of events in observance of United Nations week in Palm Springs.

Highlights will include a flag raising in The Center, a United Nations luncheon at the Town and Country, and the showing at the Plaza Theater of the motion picture "Assignment: Children," the celebrated Danny Kaye film on UNICEF.

THE LUNCHEON at the Town and Country will be held Monday at 12:30 p.m., and will be limited to the first 100 who call for reservations.

A program for the occasion has been planned, with Alex Ham-

TEEN-AGE SAILORS PLAN TO TRY AGAIN

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Three teen-aged adventurers who set off in a stolen 30-foot ketch to seek their fortune in the South Pacific were returned home today, yelling they would try it again although they may face serious charges.

The three—neatly dressed and no worse for the wear for the five days at sea in the boat—were returned to their parents by the Coast Guard, which took them off the stolen vessel about 190 miles southwest of here. The Coast Guard said the search for them cost roughly $300,000.

"WE COULD HAVE MADE IT," yelled one of the boys, thumbing his nose at reporters. He referred to their attempted trip to the Guadalupe Islands. "We'll be back in a couple of years."

Police juvenile Sgt. Rudy J. Valenti said Larry Reitz, 14, Nick Brisseau, 15, and Mike Massei, 14, all of Newport Beach, would be held in Orange County Juvenile Hall pending a decision as to what should be done with them. He said it was possible they might face grand theft and runaway charges for their stunt.

Palm Desert Group Backs 6

PALM DESERT — The Palm Desert Board of Realtors, by a unanimous poll of 42 members in attendance at today's regular meeting, approved and endorsed a "Yes" vote for Proposition No. 6 on the November 8 ballot.

L. Thorla Lake, secretary-treasurer of the Realtor unit, said that the board agreed that establishment of "proper areas for assessment of golf course property" is of high importance to the Palm Desert community.

mond's Madrigal Singers presenting folk songs, and Mrs. Leo Spitz, delegate to the World Federation of United Nations, reporting on the Warsaw Conference she attended this summer.

PRECEDING the luncheon will be the flag raising ceremony in The Center, and John Mount, principal of Katherine Finch School, will introduce Congressman D. S. Saund, who will speak on the accomplishment of United Nations and UNICEF.

The Rev. Frederick Barnhill, rector of St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church will deliver the union prayer for U. N. Day, and the entire program will be broadcast over local radio stations. "Assignment, Children" will be seen by local school children and the schedule will be announced in their local schools.

charges for their stunt.

THE WOULD-BE Huckleberry Finns were met by their relieved but not-too-happy parents when they were brought to the dock by a speed boat about 1 a.m.

"They ought to thank their lucky stars the Coast Guard caught up with them as soon as it did," said Dr. Marvin Reitz, father of Larry. "Sailing in the open ocean is dangerous."

The craft is owned by an uncle of Reitz and was berthed here. It was sailed back to port by a Coast Guard crew.

THE BOYS WERE overtaken Wednesday by the Coast Guard cutter Ponchartrain, a 255-foot ship with a crew of 120.

"They didn't appear at all remorseful," said Ens. Paul Wellings who spoke with the boys after they were taken from the Alpha I and placed on board the Ponchartrain.

Coronet Has Six-Page Story On Palm Springs

Once again Palm Springs will receive national magazine publicity when the November issue of Coronet magazine goes on sale today on newsstands all over the country, it was reported by Chamber of Commerce manager Jimmy Cooper.

The issue contains a six-page story singing the praises of the desert area. Mayor Frank Bogert is quoted several times in the article, and many Villagers are mentioned, including Mrs. Pearl McManus, Zeddie Bunker, Charlie Farrell and Robert McCulloch.

Work on the story commenced in October, 1959, when free-lance writer Don Murray visited the Village to research the article and talk with the residents to get background and color for his article.

Ike's arrival in Palm Springs Tuesday was unusual in more than one respect.

The President looks healthier than ever before here and the public more responsive. More, the seems to feel now that Villagers are as much his "neighbors" as the folks in Abilene, Kan., or at Gettysburg, Pa.

For the inside story on this — and an amusing reaction from a photographer assigned to cover the arrival of the President — see the two pages of pictures and stories on Pages 8-9 in today's Desert Sun.

U.S. Recalls Ambassador From Cuba

Not Break in Relations With Castro Regime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today recalled its Ambassador, Phillip W. Bonsal, from Cuba for "an extended period of consultation."

A State Department spokesman said in announcing the move "no date has been fixed for his return to Cuba."

There were indications he might stay here until January, at which time the next administration might appoint a new ambassador to Cuba.

OFFICIALS SAID the move does not amount to a break in relations and the United States does intend to return an ambassador to Havana at some time.

The move followed by one day a ban on U. S. exports to Cuba except medical supplies and non-subsidized food. Officials said the timing of these two actions was "a coincidence."

They said Bonsal's return had been considered for several weeks and discussed with him in diplomatic message.

ONE POSSIBLE explanation for the move was that officials feel Bonsal's relationship with the Cuban government has become so strained that he can no longer perform his functions.

Bonsal, 57, has been ambassador to Cuba since February, 1959. Before that he was ambassador to Colombia and held posts in Paris, Madrid, and The Hague. He has been a diplomat since the 1930s.

Cuba has had no ambassador in Washington since the first of this year. Its embassy here is headed by a charge d'affaires.

Arthur Matheis Succumbs at Santa Ana Home

Arthur F. Matheis, 67, of 676 Canyon Drive and Santa Ana, succumbed unexpectedly at his home in Santa Ana on Tuesday.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Wilma C. Matheis, and one sister, Mrs. Mabel Vellam of New York.

Instrument is scheduled today at Sunnyside Mausoleum in Long Beach, with Bell Broadway Mortuary of Costa Mesa in charge of arrangement.

Indian Wells Plan Review Meet Set

INDIAN WELLS — The Property Owner's Association here will meet with several county officials at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, to review its master plan of development and to establish a permanent and formalized organization.

This group of property owners spearheaded county action on establishment of their own master plan for the area, which includes Eldorado and Indian Wells Country Clubs. County officials have aided by enacting higher requirements than usually apply to unincorporated areas.

THE ASSOCIATION covers the area from Palm Desert east to Point Happy at Marshall and Washington streets, and from the Santa Rosa Mountains out to the PRESIDENT EISENHOWER returns the salute of Air Force Security guard as he boarded his plane this morning for his last trip to San Francisco and San Diego, returning to Palm Springs for a weekend of rest and relaxation. On Monday morning, at 8 a. m., the President will leave Palm Springs to fly to his meeting with the President of Mexico at Del Rio-Ciudad Acuna, about eight miles over the border from Texas. Following his luncheon in Mexico, he will make a stop in Houston before returning to the White House. (Desert Sun Photo)

Political Debate Plans Nearing Completion Here

Plans are continuing for the political debate between ranking members of the Democratic and Republican parties at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Jewish Community Center, sponsors, reported today.

Representatives of state or national level have been selected by each party, and will be announced late this week.

Al Wasserman, president of the Mr. and Mrs. Club, will serve as moderator, and Mayor Frank Bogert will officiate at the introduction.

The debate will cover variances between the Democratic and Republican parties on domestic and foreign issues, with a question and answer period to follow.

No admission is to be charged and no funds will be solicited by either party.

BULLETIN

An unconscious man, identified as Roscoe F. Grosvenor was brought to Desert Hospital by Weifels ambulance for treatment of injuries suffered in a collision on Highway 111, one-half mile east of the scales on Highway 99, shortly after noon today.

Authorities reported that he was thrown out of his car by the impact.

GASOLINE-FED BLAZE STOPPED

WHITEWATER — Gutty California Forestry fire-fighters quelled a serious gasoline-fed blaze in the Massey Construction Company rock plant here yesterday although damage to the $130,000 property was estimated at $2,500.

Throughout the blaze, in which the firemen worked close to the source of the flames, the danger of an explosion in the underground gasoline storage tanks was ever-present.

THE STATE UNITS — from North Palm Springs and Beaumont — needed only a little more than half an hour to bring the conflagration under control.

The Forestry is investigating the blaze, cause of which has not yet been determined. The fire apparently started near gasoline pumps

Pleas Changed By Two Men on Robbery Count

Two of the three men arrested in the pistol-whipping robbery of one person and the shooting of another, changed their pleas of innocent to guilty in their preliminary hearing before Justice Court Judge Eugene Theriault yesterday.

Marcellus Shepard, 26, pleaded guilty to both counts, and was bound over to Superior Court in Indio.

Rufus J. Lewis, 21, changed his plea also to guilty, but to only the count of robbery, and the second charge was dropped.

The third man, Ralph W. Walton 18, who was charged with robbery and possession of marijuana, was released from court because of a lack of evidence.

Both Shepard and Lewis will appear before Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe on Oct. 25, at 9:30 a.m.

The trio was arrested following the robbery and shooting of two different people at the Beckley Trailer Park last week.

HALLOWE'EN NEAR, BUT NOT QUITE AS SOON AS REPORTED

Halloween is coming, alright, but not quite as fast as the Desert Sun had it yesterday.

The big Halloween party being co-sponsored by the Boys' Club, the Lions Club and the City Recreation Department will be held on Oct. 31 in the Playhouse at the Polo Grounds.

The Desert Sun erroneously listed the date as Oct. 23.

Return Set for Friday

Some 2,000 Palm Springs residents were at the Palm Springs Airport this morning when President Eisenhower took off for San Francisco to receive a ticker-tape reception and deliver a foreign policy address.

The President's giant MATS 707 jet lifted off the local airport at 10:30 a.m., shortly after he was brought here from Eldorado County Club by Marine helicopter.

NO FAREWELL was scheduled or occurred, as he is due to return here after his appearances in San Francisco and San Diego for a long weekend of rest.

The President seemed preoccupied as he walked from the helicopter to his jet, but a small girl at the front of one crowd waving happily at him drew the famous Eisenhower grin.

The President landed in San Francisco about 11:30 in time to ride in a noon-time ticker-tape parade.

SAN FRANCISCO Mayor George Christopher, a Republican, planned a big welcome for the Chief Executive and predicted an "immense" turnout.

Eisenhower gelled, rested and worked on speeches Wednesday in this desert resort area after a busy 49-hour Western swing that kicked off his 6,728-mile cross-country trip.

The Chief Executive was scheduled to discuss international problems tonight at a dinner meeting of the Commonwealth Club, a business and professional men's group.

BUT INFORMED sources said he would shy away from any mention of the election-year controversy over defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands off the Red China coast.

Eisenhower has sounded two foreign policy themes so far on his tour. He has called for increased help from all free nations to resist communist encroachment on the free world. He also has voiced strong support for the United Nations as an instrument of peace in the face of attacks on it by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Six Brothers, Sisters Sought As Runaways

INDIO — Law enforcement officers across the desert here have joined in a search for six minor brothers and sisters who are reportedly en route as runaway juveniles from their home in the Thermal area.

The Riverside county sheriff's office here reported at 11 a.m. today that no report on apprehension had come from the all-points bulletin issued at 7:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Sought are a 17-year-old girl, in a car driven by her 16-year-old brother. With them are a sister, 13, a brother 9, and two infants, eight months and two years of age.

The youngsters are thought to be headed for Los Angeles, in a 1948 Oldsmobile two-door. A .22 calibre rifle may be carried in the car with them.

Villager Making Mark in Theater

By GEORGE LAINE

If you jump in your car as soon as you read this and drive like mad for San Diego, you can be in the opening night audience for the Aztec Theater Guild's production of "Medea" at San Diego State College's Little Theater.

Now that might sound like a facetious remark of the type that I am usually accused of delivering. But, not so.

THERE IS AT LEAST one very valid reason for drama-minded Villagers undertaking the trek to far-off San Diego for this visit with the ancients. The reason is a modern named Dawn Daniel (her mother, Mrs. Frances Daniel, of 1330 Mesquite Avenue, must have known she'd be an actress when she named her), and she's one of us.

Or, rather, was one of us until she headed for San Diego where she is now. I take it, considered one of them.

She's a soph in speech arts and although she might be presumed a novice, she's not. Last year at State she had four roles in Aztec Theater Guild productions including a very meaty item in "Dark of the Moon."

Anyway, the need to rush is nil. "Medea" is also being presented tomorrow and Saturday and again on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday and you can make it on one of another of those dates.

CHUCK WALTERS flew in Tuesday a.m., piled a shooting crew out of a United 707 and headed for Highway 99 and some sand dunes where he put together a dream sequence.

The Hollywood delegates neglected to return a call and so the matter will be steeped in mystery until some Walters pic comes out with sand dunes and dreams intermingled. There is one clue, however: Shirley MacLaine and Lawrence Harvey were reportedly along on the trek.

(Most of us have nightmares about those dunes but Walters, he has dreams. Lotsa luck.)

YOU'RE GUARANTEED a big fat surprise — and a pleasant one at that — when Billy Allen's new band opens up tomorrow night in the Biltmore's Garden Room.

It's easily the most versatile aggregation Allen has yet fronted and they can go any way you'd like to dance — cha cha, fox trot, jitterbug, etc.

Fronted by the very personable Mr. Allen, the new act marks the Biltmore as one of the better entertainment bets of the season here. Don't miss him.

THE INFORMATION that the Cherry Blossom Opera Company season would begin tonight is erroneous.

The story appearing in another newspaper was in error and the Cherry Blossom people are not actually slated to begin operation here until the night of Nov. 20. Now. Stop calling me.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: The Arthur Murray Studio here has added an instructor named Jerry Nelson, who reports in direct from the Murray operation in Waikiki, Oahu. . . My information doesn't tell whether or not he teaches hula. . .

How about Jimmy Durante, 67 years young, opening for a four week stand at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas. . . And speaking of the D. I. Norm Loftus, the boss over at KDES Radio, said that he was in Vegas earlier this week and sat in at the Wilbur Clark hotel for Tony Martin's final show there. . . Guess who joined Tony on stage for a real breaker upper finish? That's right, Dave Burton. Norm said it was a gas.

Katie Nelson told me she went to a fortune teller in Riverside last week and the old gal told her that Frank Day would die a violent death.

"Oh," Katie said she sighed, "will I be acquitted?"

Girl Accidentally Flipped Off Bike By Ired Teacher

MECCA — A 10-year-old girl rode for an accidental fall here Saturday, when she reportedly greeted a school teacher with "Hello, baldy."

Fred Pettit, 52, expressed regrets that the child's bicycle tipped over when he touched the handlebars, but explained to investigating officers: "I was called baldy just once too often."

The girl made the informal greeting enroute to a skating party at the school grounds, officers said. Bates was talking with the school janitor when she rode back toward home. The handle-bar tipping occurred on the return run. "I didn't intend to upset her," Bates said. But he emphasized that "children should address teachers with some respect."

Car Fire Halted By PS Firemen

A car fire, which erupted in the rear seat of a car parked in the new Desert Inn parking lot, was quickly extinguished by Palm Springs firemen about 6:30 p.m., Tuesday.

The car did not have a registration on it, but papers in the car were addressed to Mary Pernett, Sage and Sand Trailer Park, 68-068 Highway 111 Palm Springs. Firemen had to remove and tear up the seat in order to extinguish the smoldering fire.

PRETTY JUDY ANN PRICE, California Citrus Annual theme contest, now under way, ends Nov. 1, with $100 cash award going to lucky winner. Queen and also Maid of California, is obviously lost in thought as she ponders over a theme for 1961 National Orange Show, April 20 through 30. Judy Ann, by the way, isn't eligible for the prize.

ORANGE SHOW CONTEST ENDING

SAN BERNARDINO — Annual theme contest for the national Orange Show is in full swing now with only 10 days to go before the Nov. 1 deadline for entries.

A cash award of $100 will go to the person submitting the theme selected for the 1961 Show, April 20 through 30.

The goal of the citrus exposition this year is to reflect the progress of California's citrus industry as well as showing advances in education, culture, entertainment and industry in general.

Golf Cart Flip Nets Damage Suit

INDIO — An over-turning golf cart at Tamarisk Country Club on April 15 led to the filing of a $50,000 personal damages suit here Tuesday for 14-year-old Stephen Maizlish.

The suit alleges "permanent injuries," plus medical expenses, injury, pain and shock resulted from the accident as the youth was playing golf at the club. He was riding in the cart.

Harry Maizlish, guardian ad litem for the youngster, filed the suit. Leonard Matzlish and Irving B. Levine were filing attorneys.

End to a Brilliant Career

An era came to an end in the baseball world this week when Casey Stengel, the Glendale banker but more renowned for his prowess in the National pastime, stepped out.

Ole Case, as he is affectionately known in the sports world, was released as manager of the New York Yankees whose destinies he had guided in the American League for 12 years.

The New York management was emphatic in declaring that Stengel had been retired. But Stengel bluntly said fired. When he took over the job as manager of the Yanks in October, 1948, he said:

"They're not kidding me about this job. You lose once and you're out. You win and you're o.k."

And Stengel did win—ten American League pennants in the 12 years and took his team to seven World championships. But he didn't win the pennant last year when he bounced back this year, didn't win the Series.

Stengel has spent 50 of his 70 years in baseball. He was tabbed a genius by many because of the way he manipulated the players at his disposal. He made mistakes, sure, but less than his share as the record books show.

The Yankees' front office is emphatic that Ole Case was not let go because of what happened to their team a few days ago at the hands of the upstart Pittsburgh Pirates. They said he had reached the retirement age.

Stengel said he is not thinking of a job in baseball. If he means that, then the national game has lost a key figure whose name and works will not be forgotten for a long time.

'But Don't Mention Paying for It'

This Side of The Sun By Phat

It's a Gypsy life
With a mobile home,
Look at a road map
And just roam and roam.

But I must be careful not to call them trailers. I have some friends with one of these de luxe jobs and they never have to worry about luggage when they decide to spend a little time in the mountains or at the beach or on the desert.

Right now they're on the desert because of the Palm Springs Trailer Show and Rally which starts today.

THERE I DID IT! Called 'em trailers. But that's what the ad says and what the show is officially called.

Anyway, when I talked to them last and they were mapping plans to be here for the big annual event, I carelessly said: "Be here in your trailer, eh?" "It's not a trailer," said the woman firmly. "It's a mobile home."

WELL, THEY'RE HERE and living in utmost comfort in their trail — mobile home. They spent most of the summer at Laguna Beach in their trailer. Took in Yosemite for a while and now are trying to get sand in their shoes.

When not at the beach, in the mountains or on the desert, their house on wheels is parked in their citrus grove near Cucamonga.

But what I mean about luggage. They decide on a trip and there's no packing bags and figuring what they can take and what they cannot.

They just hang their clothes in the clothes closet of the mobile home.

THEN THEY CALL up one of these firms which make a business of hauling mobile homes around, give him a little leeway, and when they get there, they've got a home awaiting them, well stocked and ready for occupancy.

Not being told by a haughty clerk "sorry," but that convention extended its stay two days and we couldn't give you a room.

PALM SPRINGS, as usual, is first with the most.

According to what I am told the big show at the Polo Grounds during the annual rally is the greatest of its kind in the nation.

The 225 mobile homes on display represent more than a half million dollars. They've got everything.

I KNOW I was invited to visit in one once and sort of backed away. Being built on bulky lines I didn't look forward to it. But was happily surprised, just as comfortable or maybe more so than a Pullman into which I fit nicely.

It may be a Gypsy life but no Gypsy ever had it so good.

IN ANOTHER NEWSPAPER I saw this headline:

CUBA TRIES TWO YANKS

So Fidel, besides looking like a beatnik, wears a girdle, too.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Smoke in Your Eyes

I ran out of cigarettes this morning. And when I went to the desk at the tropical Hotel Bahia Parque, they only had the local Ministers — filtered, but a little strong for the American taste.

American cigarettes are 60 cents in Brazil.

YOU CAN SELDOM find them for sale over the counter. For the simple reason that there is too much contraband competition.

The bellboy must have felt sorry for such ignorance, for he said: "Cigarettes, Americanos?" He led me over to the corner of the lobby. And there, so help me, was a local contrabandista with his wares spread out as brisk and open as Macy's.

HE HAD AMERICAN cigarettes. He had Japanese binoculars and all sorts of smuggled consumer goods.

Smuggling seems to be one of the more honored professions. Consequently, it is difficult for a shop to stock imported goods. They cannot compete in price with the contrabandista.

MY CONTRABANDISTA had no brand I wanted. But he took my order. He said he would deliver them to my room in the afternoon.

Bahia is a port city, the original capital of Portuguese Brazil. (The name now is Salvador. But everyone calls it Bahia.) It is a tropical, steamy town. The damp gets into your clothes. Envelopes seal themselves automatically.

IT LAYS ON A large flat bay surrounded by strangely thin coco palms and flamboyant tropical flowers.

The town rises steeply from the waterfront. It is divided in two parts: the Upper Town and the Lower Town. Like Lisbon, you travel between them by public elevator — through the turnstile where they collect one ragged paper cruzeiro per ride (6-10 of a U. S. cent).

WHERE METROPOLITAN Rio de Janeiro has erased its antiquity, Bahia has a flavor of the golden days of the explorers of the 1500s.

The buildings are low and tile-roofed. The walls are tiled in blue in the Portuguese fashion.

And the streets in the old town on Pelourinho Slope are paved with worn cobbles.

IT IS THE HOME of capoeira, a peculiar ballet fighting with feet to the music of a one-string-on-a-bow instrument called a berimbau.

It is the home of Brazilian voodoo — they call it macumba.

The highly odorous open market is filled with charms to ward off the evil eye.

This is the place to buy figas which are worn by very intelligent and well-educated people.

THE REAL FIGA — the figa legitima — is a small ornament worn on a chain around the neck or on a bracelet. (We met one girl who wore her figa on a safety pin, pinned to her brassiere. (On the same pin she wore two Catholic holy medals. Thus hedging her bet two ways.) It is a small hand. A clenched fist with the thumb stuck out between the first and second fingers.

IF YOU HANG THIS on a chain at the back of the neck, it avoids evil coming at you from the rear. Large, life-size wooden figas are hung on back doors.

Bahia, nas 600,000 people. We flew out of Santos Dumont airport at Rio on a Varig Convair. It is a short runway airport, ending right in Rio's harbor. You take off over Sugar Loaf.

There's just time for a short drink and the tiny cafezinho — the little cup half full of sugar, half full of black Brazilian coffee. Three hours of flying and the plane lets down over sand dunes so white they look like powdered sugar. And you step back 400 years into the beat of African slave drums. The land where the Evil Eye is a daily danger to be conjured with proper, time-tested charms.

QUOTES

NEW YORK — Bruce L. Fekner, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, warning that a last-minute anti-Catholic campaign is likely before election day: "In every election cursed by dirty campaigning, the worst lies always appear at the last minute."

HOLLYWOOD — Pat Nixon has wrapped up a taping for one of the Here's Hollywood shows. And if you're wondering why our Second Lady is appearing on a show about Hollywood, here's why: Mrs. Veep once played a two-minute bit in a Miriam Hopkins movie, "Becky Sharp."

Van Johnson calls Dinah Shore "The Iron Butterfly." Because, although Dinah appears to be somewhat of a flutery type, she is like iron when it comes to signing those contracts.

JOE E. LEWIS at bat: "Will we ever learn that all we can ever get from playing a fast game of footsie with the Reds is a swift kick in the pants?"

An intriguing poll taken of 220 subscribers to Pay-TV in Toronto reveals the two TOP reasons why they take it. First, they hate the commercials on regular TV. Second, it keeps their teen-agers off the streets.

Efrem Zimvalist Jr., off the 77 Sunset Strip kick to make a movie with Lana Turner, will have Hyer as his "loveless wife" in that movie, "By Love Possessed."

BEN ALEXANDER received a letter from a femme fan in Oklahoma that's been ordering him. Especially these two sentences: "I always used to watch you on Dragnet, but I like your new show better. It's a nice change for you from being a police sergeant to being a hostess." Olympic pole vault champ Don Bragg, now back to wearing Uncle Sam's olive drab, will vault into the role of the profootballer in "The Champion Report" at Fox, following his Army stint.

IT'S NOT JUST a coincidence that Walter Wanger has requisitioned five Todd-AO cameras to shoot Liz Taylor in "Cleopatra." The cameras and Liz are a "package deal," since she was one of his beneficiaries to the estate of the late Mike Todd, after whom the cameras were named. Peter Finch who plays Julius Caesar in the picture, writes from London: "Steve Boyd (he plays Marc Antony) covered the 'water goat' was the machine's translation of 'hydraulic ram.'"

Chuckles

LIFTS COP'S WALLET SAN PEDRO, Calif. UPD — Policeman John Gable reported today a pickpocket relieved him of his wallet containing $1.50 and his police credentials while he was on a case in a waterfront cafe.

SKELETON IN CLOSET LONDON UPD — Observer book critic Harold Nicolson, reviewing "The Memoirs of William Hickey," a 19th Century diarist, discovered that his own grandfather had been sentenced to be hanged as leader of a gang of hoodlums.

RAM WITHOUT HORNS NEW YORK UPD — The supervisors at National Bureau of Standards were perplexed when one of its computers used to translate Russian into English kept recording the phrase "water goat" while translating a Russian engineering paper. After much checking, according to Newsweek magazine, it was discovered the "water goat" was the machine's translation of "hydraulic ram."

WISE GUYS CROYDON, England UPD — Six masked bandits broke into a department store, blew open the safe, took more than $47,000 but left the exact change for the soda pop they consumed while pulling the job.

NERVY THIEF JACKSONVILLE, Fla. UPD — Mrs. Henry Rosen reported today the thief who recently stole the hubcaps from her automobile had returned them with a note complaining they did not fit.

FOR ART'S SAKE LITTLE HULTON, England UPD — A baker was fined $5.60 for adding extra dough to bake perfectly shaped bread.

The judge said he appreciated the baker's "artistry" but reminded the defendant it was illegal to sell overweight loaves.

Remember When...

OCTOBER 20, 1950

Blessed event! Lloyd Mason Smith, director of the Desert Museum, sounded the tidings this week. Four new Villagers, complete with hardshell, arrived this week, born to Mr. and Mrs. Tortoise. Some people call 'em turtles, but that's nature faking, said Smith. Mom and Pop Tortoise are at least 50 years old. Their offsprings are doing well and will be on display at the Museum Sunday.

Barbara Hutton may spend the winter season in Palm Springs, it was indicated with disclosure she was in the Village last weekend to look over Edmund Goulding's superb hillside home in the south section. It was learned that she talked at length with the famous director concerning possible leasing of the estate, which is one of the show places in Palm Springs.

Cheerfully and undisturbedly, 739 young men of Palm Springs and Cathedral City registered this week for selective service, reported Judge Albert Hoffman.

At Palm Springs Theater — Victor Mature and Louise Plattin "Captain Caution."

Representatives of American Airways, which has the contract for carrying the mail between Los Angeles and the Southwest, were in Indio this week and arranged with the airport committee there for the privilege of erecting a beacon light on the Indio Field. Others are to be located at Desert Center and Shaver's Summit.

Your Chance to Help

Time's a-runnin' out on your chance to hear the internationally famous folk song team of Marais and Miranda Saturday night at Palm Springs High School Auditorium. Time's a-runnin' out, too, for many of the underprivileged and undernourished children of the world for whose benefit the concert is being given. You can help them, and have unsurpassed entertainment too, by getting your reservations from and your check to UNICEF today.

What is UNICEF? UNICEF is an agency of the United Nations, set up to nourish and provide medical care for children throughout the world who otherwise might starve, become diseased or die. In 1959, UNICEF'S achievements included:

13 million children vaccinated against tuberculosis.

70 million protected against malaria.

6 million treated for yaws.

1.8 million treated for trachoma.

6.3 million children and their mothers given daily rations of milk.

That's a big program, but it's not big enough. There are millions more who need and could get help if the funds were available. Your concert tickets could help.

All of the help given these children is asked for by their parent nations. All of the aid is on a "matching" "helping you to help yourself" basis to the asking nations. Administrative costs are held to bare minimum necessities.

This, again, is your chance to help these kids, while getting a big helping of top-flight entertainment. You can phone FA 4-3734 for tickets. Do it now!

Old Russian Proverb

NEW YORK — There's an old Russian proverb that goes something like:

"Speak loudly, but carry a soft shoe."

Which is an involved way of wondering how much Khrushchev accomplished with his raves and raves and finally the pounding of his shoe upon his desk in UN. If anything.

MY MAIL INDICATES that most readers are sure he made a spectacle of himself. A number of the letter writers didn't think much of a piece I wrote saying that the man stole the show... stole the headlines and the radio channels. Which he did, of course. They say, in effect, "The press should have ignored him or at least should have given Secretary Herter equal space. If this fellow achieved anything while in the U.S. he can thank the American news media as his accomplice."

The press cannot ignore a boor of Khrushchev's proportions just because it does not agree with him. In our business we don't like fires or murders or wars or natural disasters, either, but it would be senseless to ignore them. By giving them full display, the public is warned against calamities by being made more familiar with them.

A MAJORITY OF the newspapers and such magazines as have editorial policies have or will declare themselves in favor of the candidacy of Richard Nixon and Cabot Lodge. But in their news sections, Senators Kennedy and Johnson will be treated just as extensively as the GOP ticket.

On this foundation rests the prestige of the world's freest and greatest press.

his thinking. To have turned our attention to, let's say, an interview with Mr. Herter instead of letting the world see the Russian beating on his desk would have been a violation of a public trust. It would have been pro-Communism.

ON THE DAY after he took off for Moscow, a series of vans backed up to UN headquarters to cart away tons of typewriters, camera equipment, radio and TV gear, rows of tables and desks at which reporters worked.

The press area was back to normalcy, normalcy being a comparative handful of regular correspondents. The doors were opened to tourists again. Security guards disappeared. You could walk a mile without being stopped for an examination of your credentials, whereas you could hardly walk a foot, unchallenged, when Khrushchev was there.

THE DANGER here is that the U.S. information media will now let UN return to the status of a towering sarcophagus in the midst of the world's liveliest metropolis. Khrushchev's excesses while at the assembly had one good effect: they probably aroused more interest in the workings of UN, its opportunities and limitations, its meaning and hopes, than had ever existed before.

UN is going to be with us the rest of our lives. It would be bovine to us to keep an eye on it, an interest in it, though it may never again resound with desk thumping. It is bigger than any thump. It is infinitely greater than any thumper.

THERE WERE no speeches at Idelwild when the Soviet dictator climbed the ladder into his jet. But there was one near the scabrous pier where the ship that had brought him to this country prepared to set sail — loaded with U.S. television sets, washing machines, refrigerators, radios, deep freezers, bicycles, and other items Khrushchev has pledged his society will soon produce in greater quantities than our society can.

Dr. Bela Fabian, the Hungarian refugee, appeared at dock side with 200 pickets and asked admission to the pier where the Baltika lay. Police permitted Dr. Fabian alone to advance near the ship. He is a man whose voice is as strong as his convictions.

"OFFICERS AND crew members of the Baltika," he roared out in Russian above the traffic's boom and pier noises. "We've come here to say goodbye and to ask you to tell the people of the Soviet Union — not just the Russian people but all the Soviet people — that we in America are fighting not only for the freedom of America and the West but for the freedom of all peoples, including you and your own."

By now 60 men and women, officers and crew, had gathered at the rails of the ship, silently listening.

"YOU REMEMBER the big dictators of the recent past, Hitler and Mussolini? Their dictatorships did not last. They met a shameful end. That is the fate of all dictators. Freedom will prevail everywhere."

"We hope that the peoples of the U.S.S.R. will continue to resist dictatorship as they have resisted it, as best they can, for the past 45 years. Resist! Resist! Resist! In your resistance you have our sympathy. The time will come when we altogether will have the same happy life as the people of the United States."

"GOODBYE AGAIN. Don't forget what you've seen here. Don't forget that the greatest joy in life is to live in free dom."

The Russians stood there, mutely. Russian security guards stood all around them, ready to tackle any who tried to leap for freedom.

NEW ENTRANCE TO THUNDERBIRD Country Club reflects just a small portion of the vast rebuilding program at the famed country club this past summer. The new divided drive into the club, lined with palms, makes the gate one of the newest landmarks in the Palm Springs area. The renovation includes new locker rooms, professional shop, starters office, business office and gift shops, with complete overhaul of the main dining room and cocktail lounge, also accomplished. The club is now open for its members. (Desert Sun Photo)

CV Propagation Club Bids for Travel Expense

The Coachella Valley Wild Propagation Club urged the Board of Supervisors this week to further explore the possibility of reimbursing members of the county fish and game commission for expenses, at least those for necessary travel. The request was referred to county counsel without comment.

The propagation club said the board's refusal to allow expenses was an injustice. They suggested that there are possibilities of surmounting the difficulties expressed by County Counsel Ray Sullivan in his opinion that payment of expenses to the commissioners would be illegal.

THE COMMISSIONERS have pointed out that three nearby counties, San Bernardino, San Diego and Los Angeles, are reimbursing their fish and game commissioners but Sullivan so far has stuck to his opinion that it is illegal.

The club suggested that the county pay the commissioners a salary, such as $1 per year, sufficient to make them county employees and thereby eligible to receive recompense for actual expenditures.

"THIS MAY SEEM to the legal mind merely an attempt to circumvent existing laws as interpreted by county counsel," declared William B. Thomas of Indio, "but the means might justify the end result." He said directors of the propagation club feel that more might be accomplished by the commissioners if they were reimbursed for at least a portion of their expenses.

The commissioners have estimated the cost of attending meetings at $5 per meeting.

22,000 Mile Orient Cruise Ends for Pair

By JEAN PATANE
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clauden climaxed their summer activities with a two month cruise to the Orient covering 22,000 ocean miles. They left Long Beach Harbor the middle of August and were met by friends in every port except Vancouver going and San Francisco on the return voyage.

They stopped in Honolulu, Yokohama, Manila, Kobe, Hong Kong, Kyoto and Tokyo and were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wallich in every port in the Orient except Manila.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallich were on a business trip to the Orient via the airways.

From Kyoto they took the Tsubami Train to Tokyo accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wallich and Warren Berkenhead, who is head of the Ampe Corporation in Tokyo, enjoying the interesting and beautiful Japanese countryside. On the return voyage the ship stopped again at all ports except Manila, ending the trip in San Francisco.

Former residents of Crestline, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Grider have bought the Harold Larsen house on Belair and will make Cathedral City their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Galloway are back at their desert home after spending the summer on Whitby Island.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sharp and daughter, Christine, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp, drove to Escondido to celebrate the first birthday of their second grandchild, Ronnie Donahoe. Their son-in-law, Thomas Donahoe, who made Petty Officer Second class while on a nine month cruise aboard the Aircraft Carrier Ticonderoga, returned to Coronado last week. The Ivan Sharps drove down to join their daughter, Midge, and her sons, Tommy and Ronnie, to welcome Donahoe home. Later they enjoyed an interesting tour of the carrier.

Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pearson of San Luis Obispo, who spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cowan of Sunair, are now guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lane, at their home on Grandview.

Pioneer California residents and citrus growers of Anaheim, A. Thornburgh and his sister, Miss Lulu Thornburgh, are spending two weeks at the Desert Lodge on their annual desert visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner-Moon (the is Cathedral City librarian) returned Saturday from their summer home in Calimesa. Her sister, Winnie Winn of Houston, Texas is spending the winter with the Moons at their home on Vista Drive.

Former Cathedral City residents Bob and Amelia Irvine, who now make their home in Santa Monica, visited friends Friday evening and Saturday while here on business.

Mrs. Anna Sherkey returned to her home in Los Angeles Monday after spending a week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donahue. She accompanied Mrs. Donahue to Riverside to celebrate the birthday of her grandson, Dennis McNamara, who was 19 Oct. 13. Dennis is attending the University of California at Riverside.

Well known costume designer Mrs. Tanya Duane is back at her studio after a vacation in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Mrs. Grace Lyeth left to spend several weeks in Los Angeles and to celebrate their birthday with friends.

Members of the Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society, who met the first Friday of each month at the Town Hall, enjoyed a week-end camp-out in Hinkley in quest of petrified palm and bog. Participating were Herb Oviatt, in charge of the chuck wagon, Bob Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allabough and son, Woody, Mrs. Hazel Hill, Mr. and Mrs. George Oswald and children, Mona and Cindy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiatt and son, Leroy, Ned Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haskell, Harmon Murlin, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson, Claude Vedder, Dale Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Mabbett and George Dozzer.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 20, the 294th day of the year with 72 more in 1960.

The moon is new.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1859, American philosopher and teacher John Dewey was born.

In 1873, P. T. Barnum opened his Hippodrome in New York City.

In 1910, Woodrow Wilson resigned as president of Princeton University to run for his first elective office, governor of New Jersey.

In 1944, American troops landed on the eastern coast of Leyte Island in the Philippines.

In 1953, Cpl. Edward Dickinson, one of 23 American prisoners of war who originally refused to be repatriated after the Korean War, changed his mind and asked to be returned to the United States.

Thought for today: American writer Mark Twain said: "It takes your enemy and your friend, working together, to hurt you to the heart; the one to slander you and the other to get the news to you."

Early Worker Arrested, Must Face the Judge

An Upland, Calif., man was arrested in Palm Springs Wednesday morning, charged with violation of a section of the Palm Springs Building Code Ordinance which makes it a misdemeanor to start work before 8 a.m. without a special permit.

Arrested was William Henry Bryant, 35, a cement contractor with the Arthur Associates of Upland.

The company is currently doing cement work on a local home construction job. Bryant will appear before Judicial District Judge Eugene Theriault tomorrow morning.

Restless River

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Because of the restlessness of the Rio Grande, part of what is now downtown El Paso used to be in Mexico. The land, known as El Chamizal, is a 600 acre strip detached from Mexico by the river's whimsical sweep to the south in 1873.

VILLAGERS STILL NEIGHBORLY—LOST CHECKS RETURNED

Palm Springs' neighborliness showed up $150 strong when Mrs. Lucille Pontius, 475 Camino Parocela, called police to report the finding of travelers' checks in that amount.

Mrs. Pontius, a bank employee here, said her husband found the checks — issued in $10 denomination — in the north end of town. The checks were issued to Doreen S. Jackson.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: You goofed! How could you advise parents to get their small boy a miniature French poodle? Poodles are expensive to buy and only a millionaire can keep a poodle properly manicured and clipped. Also, you can't give an aristocrat like that table scraps unless you eat filet mignon and crepes suzette everynight. What's wrong with a Boston bull?

PAUL FROM SOUTH CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd have told Mrs. J. L. T. that apartment dwellers have no business having dogs. A few goldfish or tropical fish would do just as well. I had puppies when I was a child and believe it or not, I learned about the birds and the bees from the fish!

"CORNELL '61" (ITHACA, N.Y.)

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who knows anything about pets will tell you the best pet in the world for a child is a dachshund. They are odorless, hairless, affectionate and sturdy.

FRISKEY'S MASTER (HARTFORD, CONN.)

DEAR ABBY: Hope Mrs. J. L. T. didn't take your advice and rush out to buy her 7-year-old son a miniature male poodle. A female (spayed, of course) would make a much better pet.

EDNER (PORTLAND, OREGON)

DEAR ABBY: I agree, every child should have a pet. But why a French poodle? Our boys had white mice. Their mice gave them much pleasure and there was no work involved for me. Mice cost nothing to feed, require no license, never have to go to the vet's, and do not annoy the neighbors.

LIKES WHITE MICE (San Antonio, Tex.)

DEAR ABBY: For a couple of dollars and a trip to the dog pound, Mrs. J. L. T. can get a first-class pet. Yes, I mean an ordinary mongrel. We've never had anything else and when it comes to loyalty and companionship, I'll put one of those mutts against any pedigreed dog.

HERB H. (SIOUX CITY, IOWA)

DEAR ABBY: I've raised and bred dogs all my life and, if I were to recommend the ideal dog for a child, I'd say get him a cocker spaniel, beagle or schnauzer. French poodles are too high-strung, noisy and ornery. Besides which, a small poodle is no animal for rough-housing.

Hennes-Moretti Nuptials Celebrated on October 8

Saint Joseph's Catholic Church in Pomona was the setting for the noon wedding Saturday, October 8, of Rosemarie Josephine Moretti, daughter of Mrs. Frances Serna of San Diego and Edward F. Moretti of El Centro, to Matthew Edward Hennes, son of Mrs. Louise Hennes and the late Mr. Hennes of Palm Springs.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Father Cavanaugh.

The attractive bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a bridal gown of white moire silk with sweeping chapel train, scoop neckline and three quarter length sleeves. A pearl tiara caught up her elbow length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and cascading stephanotis. She also wore a string of pearls with matching pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Bridesmaids, Margaret A. Kemby, Susan Ann Bowers and Shirley K. Burgess, chose electric blue satin bouffant style gowns with matching blue satin pumps. Their crown headpieces of roses were made from the same material as their gowns and caught up shoulder length blue veils. They carried colonial bouquets of white roses and carnations.

The little flower girl, Nancy Jane Bowers, niece of the groom, wore a replica of the bride's dress in blue with electric blue sash. Her tiny head crown was made of white rosebuds and blue delphinium.

Robert Brocktrop served the groom as best man and ushers were Al Spire, Donald F. Buehrig, Jerry Tracy and Don Kemby. Soloist was Margaret Kemby.

A champagne reception followed at the Stiff Shirt in Uplands where the bride's mother received guests in a champagne and gold brocade silk dress trimmed in mink and the groom's mother wore a dress of silver blue antique silk.

The new Mrs. Hennes attended Immaculate Heart Convent, is a graduate of Immaculate Heart College with an AB degree and received her master's degree from Saint Louis University where she was affiliated with Theta Iota Pi sorority.

The groom is a graduate of Palm Springs High School and UCLA, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He is also a graduate of Loyola University, School of Law, with an LLB degree and was affiliated with Phi Alpha Delta fraternity.

Following a honeymoon in New Orleans, San Juan, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas and the Virgin Islands, the couple will return in November to make their home in Glendale.

Tokay Orange Cream

"Tokay Orange Cream" is a perfect dessert to serve after a bounteous autumn dinner. A tangy orange-flavored Bavarian cream holds crisp Flame Tokay grape halves, surrounded by a circle of ladyfingers. This Tokay grape and gelatin cream dessert, easy to make and very handsome, will appeal to little children as well as adults.

Dissolve 1/4 cup sugar and 1 (3-ounce) package lemon-flavored gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add grated rind 1 orange, 1/4 cup orange juice and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cool until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, halve and seed 1 1/2 cups Tokay grapes. When gelatin is thickened, whip with rotary beater until light and fluffy. Whip 1 cup whipping cream and fold into gelatin. Reserve a few grapes for garnish; fold remainder into gelatin mixture. Arrange 3 or 4 ladyfingers around sides of each dessert dish, and fill dish with gelatin mixture. Sprinkle remaining Tokays on top. Chill until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Key Women See Famous Wives Revue

The key to the whole thing was showmanship, when Key Women for Kennedy held a Fun Time Tea and All Star Frolic in the Chi Chi Starlite Room Tuesday afternoon.

Los Angeles City Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman, who is also state chairman for Women for Kennedy, stepped into the role of mistress of ceremonies, and the show went on even without Peter Lawford, who wired regrets.

The attractive young wives of famous names in the entertainment world were as refreshingly pliquant as iced, bubbly champagne. Attired in short-skirted matching gowns in varied colors, each with matching slippers, they made their bows, carrying Kennedy fans, which reversed, spelled out the name of the Democratic candidate for president. A similar line up of their husbands, Milton Berle, Gene Barry, Steve Allen, Sammy Cahn (he wrote the revue) Nat King Cole, Don Drysdale and John Roseboro, would be just as entertaining but not as pretty.

The lyrics, in the revue ranged from rollicking wit to biting sarcasm, with Mrs. Berle and Mrs. Cole opening the show with a "We Will Vote for Dick When" number. Like "when Castro's sponsored by Gillette," or "When Mamie combs her hair straight back."

Mrs. Cahn's song was to the tune of her husband's Emmy-winning award song "Love and Marriage," with perhaps the best line "try to separate them, Cahn and Van Heusen (one of the country's greatest song-writing teams.)"

A smash hit was blonde Mrs. Barry, whose costume was fashioned like "Bat Materson's." She wore a derby and flourished a cane when she sang she loved to "bat" Materson.

The pianist Bob Walter played "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," when the two Dodge wives, Mrs. Drysdale and Mrs. Roseboro, came on in baseball uniforms and sang a song to the tune of "Be-witched, Bothered and Bewildered."

Jayne Meadows (Mrs. Steve Allen) was a striking figure in an orange dress with thick ropes of yellow and crystal beads, that were dramatic with her blonde hair. Her act was a form of the "Mad Libs" her husband has popularized, with the audience supplying random words to fill in the short story she had prepared.

Natalie Myers, Riverside County chairman, introduced visiting notables, including Stanley Speigelman, local Democratic chairman, and two Democratic candidates Clifford Dean and David Strausser. Also the wives of Congressman D. S. Saund and of James Roosevelt.

Huge gold keys decorated the tables, and sandwich plates were served with beverages.

Co-chairmen for the successful event, which drew a crowd of around 200 from many neighboring communities, were Mrs. James Schlect and Mrs. Robert Lane.

A contemporary free form sculpture, designed for pool or patio area, and contributed by local sculptor Glenn Cargyle, was given away and went to Sylvia Uslander of Los Angeles, a guest of Mrs. Arthur Hirsch.

Tasty Snack

NEW YORK (UPI) — Puffed rice balls make a tasty snack for teen-agers. Measure 5 cups of puffed rice into a shallow pan and heat 10 minutes in 350-degree oven. Pour into a large greased bowl.

In a double boiler, melt 1-3 cup of butter or margarine, 1/4 cup of peanut butter and pound of large fresh marshmallows (about 32), stirring occasionally. Pour this over puffed rice, stirring until evenly coated. Grease hands and mold coated cereal into 12 balls, using whole marshmallows as cores. Cool and wrap in foil.

Grone-Portney Vows Said

The garden of the Catalina Palms Hotel, home of the groom's parents, was the setting for the noon wedding Sunday of Harriet Portney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Portney of 1259 Pasatiempo Road, and Charles Harold Grone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Grone. The young couple repeated their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony before Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz.

The attractive brunette bride chose a white silk, long sleeved bouffant, street length dress. Her shoulder length veil was caught up by a crown of pearls and she carried a white orchid with satin streamers on a white prayer book. Her father gave her in marriage. Myra Grone, sister of the groom, was maid-of-honor and wore a bouffant satin dress in the new fall shade of gold and carried autumn flowers. Pink organdy dresses gownned the little flower girls, Janice Portney and Myrna Appelby who carried baskets of flowers.

Barry Bierman served the groom as best man and Stanley Portney, the bride's brother, was usher. Immediately following the wedding a champagne luncheon catered by Florence's Partytime Foods was served.

At the reception the bride's mother received the guests in a cocktail dress of powder blue and the groom's mother chose an import of beige satin.

The bride attended Forest Park High School in Baltimore and Palm Springs High School where she was a member of Psi Lambda Tau sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Palm Springs High School and attended University of Southern California and was affiliated with Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity.

Following a honeymoon in Honolulu, the couple will make their home in Palm Springs, where he is associated in business with his father.

AN ELEGANT AFFAIR was the wedding of Mil-dred Bollman and James Braden which took place this weekend at the Bel-Air home of the bridegroom. The couple have a Thunderbird Heights home and will divide their time between the two places.

Couple Married in Bel-Air

A picture in blue against the pastel blue background of the livingroom in the bridegroom's Bel Air home on Moraga Drive, Millie Bollman and James Braden said their vows at an early evening wedding on Saturday afternoon. Judge Orlando Rhodes of the Superior Court, Santa Monica, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her son Donald, the bride wore a full-skirted Bess Bender original of heaven-saved ironing time by doing all raysons first, then silks, cottons and linens. In this way, minutes are not wasted in waiting for the iron to heat or cool.

Ly blue re-embroidered lace, applique over satin. It had a portrait neckline and the soft roses that are almost a trademark of this designer. Slippers and gloves were of matching hue, and she carried two white orchids.

Attending the bride was her lifelong friend Elda Eckland of McHenry, Illinois, wearing a mauve peau de soie with matching slippers.

A canopy had been set up outside on the grounds of the estate, and over 100 guests, including many of their Palm Springs friends sipped champagne and danced to the music of popular Teddy Neill and his orchestra. There was a handsome towering cake to top the dinner.

The bridegroom is the president of Matador oil Corporation in Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Braden will divide their time between their Bel-Air home and the Thunderbird Heights house, which was formerly owned by Bing Crosby.

To Honor Exchange Students

A Welcome - to - Palm Springs supper will be held at the Stan Rosin home at 358 Valmonte Norte, Sunday night, when the American Field Service Group will entertain for the two new foreign exchange students, Antoinette von Riet of Holland, and Jean Louis Scoffie of France, who are attending Palm Springs High School this year.

Mrs. Rosin, who is president of the group, will be assisted in hosting the affair by Mmes. Earl Coffman, David Watt, Stewart Williams, Winfred Miner and Dr. Seamus Nunan.

Housewarming Is Surprise for Mrs. San Chez

It was a surprise housewarming for B. J. SanChez, when a group of friends, spearheaded by the Herman Ridders, brought a potluck dinner and drinks to her new home on Pablo Drive.

In the party were the Adolph Bremers, Walter Sibberts, Mrs. W. B. Malouf, the Ed Rothbarts, Ed Schills, Lester Callahans Sr., Father Michael O'Donohoe and Dr. and Mrs. William Elliott, and Mrs. San Chez' daughter Blair, and mother Bettina Roth.

Desert Dinner Club Will Hear Talk by Scientist

Dr. Gerald Wendt, a scientist with an international following who has spent several years of duty on the scientific front in France, and whose articles of the news in science are used by more than 5,000 newspapers in 71 countries, will be the guest of honor at the Desert Dinner Club meeting the evening of Wednesday, October 26th at the Palm Springs Riviera Hotel. The social hour is to start at 7 p.m. and the black tie dinner will be served promptly at 8 p.m.

Ranking high in the field of atomic energy as is indicated by the fact that his latest book, "You and the Atom," published in January of 1956 already has been translated into 14 foreign languages and published in Japan, Thai, Arabic, Turkish, Greek, Finnish, Swedish, Norwegian, Dutch, German, Italian, Spanish, and French. Dr. Wendt is called the world's leading interpreter of science to the layman.

In recognition of such it was Dr. Wendt at the "Atoms for Peace" Conference at Geneva who analyzed for the 900 newspapermen present just what the importance was of the high-brow atomic discussions that were carried on. He also acted as chief radio commentator for the United States on the major U.S. networks.

In his talk here is prepared to discuss what are soon to become the commonplace improvements and sources of what we eat, wear and use, as well as various other phases of the Atomic Age.

DR. GERALD WENDT will address the first meeting of the Desert Dinner Club at the Palm Springs Riviera on October 26.

Inter-Service Club Luncheon Is Postponed

Miss Katherine Flachy, representing Soroptimist Club which will hostess this year's Inter-Service Club luncheon, announced today that the event, originally scheduled for November 1 at the Palm Springs Riviera, has been indefinitely postponed. Participating clubs will probably choose a date for late in the season, but the original date was found not feasible, she said.

BACKSTRAND BACKERS FORM IN NEW GROUP

Organization throughout Riverside County of the "Bi-Partisan Citizens Committee for Responsible Representation" was announced this week as the result of renewed active support in the district for the election of Lee Backstrand to the State Senate.

Co-Chairmen of the citizens committee are J. A. "Red" Moss, prominent Riverside auto dealer; Daniel Tavaglione, veteran employee of Food Machinery & Chemical Corp., Riverside; and Wayne C. Bailey, another well known Riverside businessman.

Objective of the county-wide committee, according to the chairmen, is to preserve the influence and standing of Riverside County in the State legislature through the election of Backstrand to the State Senate post being vacated by retiring Senator Nelson S. Dilworth of Hemet.

RICH GOLF CLUBS FACE TAX BALLOT

(Editor's NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of five articles dealing with propositions on California's Nov. 8 ballot.)

By JERRY REYNOLDS

SACRAMENTO (UP) — How some of the state's richest golf courses will be taxed—high or low—is the crux of the argument over Proposition 6 on the November election ballot.

The issue is whether the state's private, nonprofit golf courses should pay property taxes according to their full value or whether their property taxes are assessed according to recreational use of the property regardless of surrounding land values.

PROPOSITION 6 WOULD permit tax assessments on these nonprofit golf courses only for their recreational use.

The situation arises, much as it does with farm lands and private airports, when land is developed around these large holdings. Pat Martin, spokesman for the backers, says that in most cases homes are built along the green and wooded courses. Prices of bordering lots skyrocket to as much as $10,000 per lot for the prestige home sites.

IN SOME CASES HE says, property taxes on these golf courses have shot up 600 per cent in five years. And he predicts many will go broke without tax relief.

Assemblyman John A. O'Connell, who wrote the official argument against the proposition, said it would cut local tax income.

"Its purpose is to give golfers privileges not enjoyed by people who happen to prefer tennis, swimming, fishing or any other sport," he said.

"It has always been the practice in this state to tax property on the basis of the 'highest and best use' to which it could be put—that is to say, what it is really worth on the open market."

TEN OTHER ISSUES face voters on the election ballot. Here is a brief description of other major proposals:

—Proposition 3 permits totally disabled veterans to retain their annual $5,000 property tax exemption and transfer it to any home they buy. At present, the exemption is given only on homes bought with federal government backing.

—Proposition 11 does the same as Proposition 3. In addition, it would, in the future, extend the $1,000 property tax exemption only to veterans who lived in California at the time they entered the service or were residents as of Nov. 8.

—Proposition 14 would permit use of gasoline tax money to finance bonds for local grade separation projects at highway-railroad junctions. The Constitution now requires that gas tax money be used exclusively and directly for highway purposes.

Backers say many local communities cannot afford to build grade separations when they are needed. But opponents say railroads are required to pay a share and the state allocates about $5 million a year to help.

Big Shots For Short Photog

By BOB NIMS

As Told to George Laine
"Get the good pictures, Bob," were the last instructions from the City Desk. "Don't spare the film—just get the good pictures." At least I can say I tried.

BUT I'M JUST 5-foot, 5 inches tall and let me tell you that I ran into problems almost as soon as I reached the Palm Springs Airport where President Eisenhower and a delegation of Washington newsmen were scheduled to arrive.

First of all there was the airport fence. We got past that easily, simply showing our press credentials.

Then came a rope. A rope with Palm Springs police officers holding it and acting as additional restraint for anyone who wanted to get close to the area where the President was landing.

And — as more precaution — a gang of Secret Service men were on the ground with more scheduled to arrive aboard Eisenhower's Air Force jet.

THE BIG 77 HOVF into view with the jet smoke trailing behind it. It came in fast but stuck to the runway and then trundled

HE DOOD IT!

Most of the photographs on these two pages were taken by Desert Sun Chief Photographer Bob Nims — despite the liability of short stature which he discusses in the accompanying column.

To an exit concourse and pulled into the unloading area.

All of a sudden everything tightened up in front of me.

I had been able to see the President's plane for an instant or so but suddenly all I could see was the khaki uniforms of Palm Springs policemen and the suits of Palm Springs detectives and ranking officers.

I recognized Ed R. Manoff, who stands 6-foot, 1-inch, or better and Orest Johnson, who must be 6-foot or so and then a gang of Secret Service men were piled up in front of them. (They must have a six-foot requirement for the Secret Service, I'm convinced.)

I KNEW ALL I would get in my camera would be the backs of these guys so I got down on the ground and tried shooting between legs. I got a couple that way and then I edged along the crowd until I reached a fairly clear space and started shooting fast.

My next supply requisition is not for flashbulbs or more sheet film or anything incidental like that. What I really need is a step-ladder that'll give me some sort of a break in situations like this one.

(And maybe I can talk Police Chief Gus Kettmann and see if he can't be talked into hiring more guys about the size of Dick Harries. He's about 5-foot, 9½-inches and I've at least got a fighting chance with him on the job.)

Despite skillful harvesting by Indian collectors, an estimated 35 per cent of the wild rice crop falls from the plant back into the water.

WALKING JAUNTILY AT high speed across Palm Springs Airport tarmac, President Eisenhower forces Village Mayor Frank Bogert to step lively to keep up with him. The President was actually only on the ground long enough for a quick hello to city and Chamber officials, then headed for Eldorado Country Club. (Desert Sun Photo)

WITH AN ALACRITY that belied his 70 years, the Chief Executive sprang into his Marine Corps helicopter which whisked him away to a late afternoon round of golf at Eldorado Country Club.

IRELAND CONCERNED OVER KENNEDY STATUS IN U.S.

By DON O'HIGGINS

DUBLIN (UP) — No. U. S. presidential election in history has aroused such intimate interest throughout Ireland as the contest between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

But overshadowing the overwhelming national enthusiasm for Kennedy because of his Irish background lies a feeling of frustration and disappointment that his religion appears still to be an issue in his bid for the White House.

IN THIS PREDOMINANTLY Roman Catholic country, the Protestant minority has always ranked high in the esteem of the nation and has in many instances taken the lead in business and politics.

Ireland's first president, a unanimous choice of all political parties, was a Protestant. Many of her national heroes have been non-Catholics. Robert Briscoe made headlines when he was elected the first Jewish Lord Mayor of Dublin. The present holder of that office, Maurice Dockrell, comes from one of the city's leading Protestant families.

With a man's religion counting for so little when it comes to the holding of public office in Ireland, this nation feels that the United States should have long since buried religion as a political issue.

THE WORDS OF THE influential Protestant daily newspaper, The Irish Times, summed up Irish feelings on this matter:

"If Sen. Kennedy's religion should be seen to be the reason for his defeat, a bad day's work will have been done for democracy, for the United States — and for the creative peace of the world."

WHILE OFFICIAL Ireland maintains a strictly neutral position on the outcome of the election, there has been no such curb on the enthusiasm of the newspapers and public in their support for Kennedy.

When he won the Democratic nomination, newspapers reported an influx of telephone calls at the switchboard far out-numbering inquiries on an Irish presidential election.

Newspapers and magazines have run Kennedy's life story in serial form, and as the date of the election approaches, intense interest has been taken in the campaign.

DHS City Ballot Slated Jan. 10

As expected, the Board of Supervisors acted this week to set Jan. 10, 1961, as the date for an election on the proposed incorporation of Desert Hot Springs.

Voters within the proposed boundaries will determine whether or not the community is to become incorporated, and will elect five city councilmen to take office if incorporation is approved.

Ike 'Fit As a Fiddle'

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, smiling broadly, extends a warm handclasp to Palm Springs City Manager Dan Wagner during the welcoming ceremony at the Palm Springs Airport Tuesday. The Chief Executive appeared far more relaxed and indicated much less strain than in prior visits.

President Relaxed, Smiling

By FRED WEIGEL
Unlike his previous trips to Palm Springs, President Dwight D. Eisenhower landed here yesterday looking "fit as a fiddle" and apparently very happy about his visit to the Palm Springs area.

After chatting for a few minutes with representatives of the city, he boarded his Marine helicopter for the trip to the Justin Dart cottage at Eldorado Country Club in Palm Desert.

HE DIDN'T WASTE any time before he was on the golf course, making some practice shots on the driving range, and teeing off the Number One tee.

He didn't play a round of golf, but he did get in some practice before returning to the cottage for dinner and rest.

The President, who on other visits visibly showed the strain of holding the highest office in the land, arrived looking in good physical condition, with the well-known Ike smile on his face.

PRESS SECRETARY Jim Hagerly said at yesterday's press conference that the President had slept well, arose early and ate his breakfast before going out on the golf course.

He teed off at 8:55 a.m. with W. Alton Jones, chairman of the board of Cities Service Stations; Freeman Gosden, of Amos and Andy fame, and Charles Jones, chairman of the board of Richfield Oil Company.

The President's arrival and greeting was much happier and relaxed than was shown before on his trips to Palm Springs. He seemed to reflect the feeling that he was arriving in a "home town" and was seeing his "neighbors."

Village Hotel Sued After Fall

INDIO—Hugo Simon filed suit here Tuesday against Sunset Towers and trustee Martin Hersch seeking $25,000 for personal injuries reportedly sustained in a fall at the Palm Springs hotel Feb. 15.

Simon seeks the damages for "pain, suffering and shock" sustained when he fell through an entry gate between the parking lot and his room at the hotel. The suit, filed by Ruskin and Montgomery, Palm Springs, alleges hotel was negligent in not having the area lighted at the time of accident, approximately 8 p.m.

There's No Diplomacy Left In 'International Diplomacy'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: UPI's State Department correspondent offers some impressions of the new rough and tumble school of diplomacy which he gained in 100,000 miles of jet travel to 30 countries during the past year. Among his assignments were Khrushchev's 1959 tour of the United States, President Eisenhower's global "Peace Crusades," the ill-fated summit conference and other international meetings.)

By STEWART LANSLEY
NEW YORK — UPI — The bizarre has become commonplace in international diplomacy. The incredible seems almost taken for granted. Protocol officers are in less demand than poets.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev deserves a large share of the credit — or blame — for stripping the striped pants off international manners. But he's had help.

LOOKING BACK OVER the past 12 months there have been moments of high comedy and times of spine-chilling tragedy. Vicious mobs in Tokyo blocked President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. Screaming demonstrators in New York are keeping Khrushchev, as well as Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro, quarantined in their living quarters except when they sallied forth under heavy guard to attend the United Nations.

JVs to Open DVL at Indio Tonight

7 Squad Members Benched

Palm Springs High Junior Varsity puts its three-game winning streak on the block tonight as they swing into the Desert Valley League JV schedule.

First league opponent for coach Cal Farley's Papoose outfit will be the Rajah Jayvees of Indio. That game is slated for the Date Bowl field at Indio at 6 p.m. tonight.

INDIO HIGH has no lights on its field and plays all of its games in the Coachella Valley high field at the Date Bowl.

Farley has little to go on, on the strength of the Indio Jayvees. In one common foe, San Jacinto, the Rajah babes won 24-0 while the Paposes won 56-0.

"But you can't go on that," he said. "We're hit this week by ineligibilities. Seven of our boys, three of them starters, didn't make the required grades and can't play tonight."

"PHYSICALLY, we're in good shape. So far this season, let me knock on wood, none of our boys has been knocked flat. A few lumps and bruises, to be sure, but nobody hurt."

Farley has a squad of around 40 boys, freshmen and sophomores and only two juniors, both 130-pounders. They have to be to stay in the JV class.

In his first two games, against Perris and San Jacinto, Farley used about 2-3 boys. He has been a strong Hemet Jayvee team, he used about 2 boys. He has been splitting his freshmen and sophomores about 50-50.

THE JAYVEES have an excellent record to date, winning three out of three and have rolled up 107 points against six for the opposition.

Tonight's game at the Date Bowl gets under way at 6 o'clock. In other DVL Jayvee games slated tonight, Yucaipa plays at Banning and Coachella at Twentynine Palms.

THIRD SCHMELING-LOUIS MEETING ENDS IN DRAW

NEW YORK (UPI)—The third Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight was a draw.

The 2 ring greats met by surprise in public Wednesday night. It was one of their rare meetings since their historic battle at Yankee Stadium 22 years ago, when Louis flattened Schmeling in the first round of their world heavyweight title fight to avenge an earlier defeat by the German.

"The occasion was a national television show, 'This Is Your Life,' which was taped in the ballroom of a midtown hotel for presentation this weekend."

"Joe Louis is a great friend," said Schmeling, burying all the hatred that accompanied their second fight. "He is one of the finest sportsmen in the world... and I wish good luck to him and his family."

Louis, genuinely surprised at Schmeling's appearance on the TV show, shuddered at the mention of their first fight in 1936 when Max handed him the first defeat of his career.

"This guy knows how to dish it out," Joe said. "But through it all, we've remained friends. And that's the way it should be."

The crowd in the ballroom clapped loudly, and minus an applause meter, you had to call it a draw.

Ole Miss Now First In Grid Statistics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse University, penetrated for 250 yards by Penn State last Saturday, still managed to hold its lead in major college total defense this week, but the Orangemen were unsteady by Mississippi as rushing defense leader.

Syracuse's overall defense figure has soared to 133.8 yards a game, just a shade better than Wyoming's 134.2. Wyoming is also runner-up to Mississippi in rushing defense.

In other departments, official statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show Auburn as the pass defense leader, Dartmouth the score-based defense leader and Wisconsin as the top punting team.

Syracuse, in a disastrous week statistic wise, yielded 152 rushing yards to Penn State—more than the combined total of the three previous Orange opponents—and dropped to fifth place on the ground defense list. This was the first time in over a year that Syracuse had been topped from the No. 1 position in this department.

Mississippi, a consistently strong defensive outfit for the last five years, took the rushing defense leadership by permitting the opposition a total of only 307 yards on the ground in five games for

Robertson Stars In Debut in NBA Season Opener

By United Press International
One game doesn't make a season but it appears today that the addition of Oscar Robertson is just what the Cincinnati Royals needed to make them a National Basketball Association power.

The famed three-time All-American from the University of Cincinnati made his NBA debut Wednesday and delighted a record crowd of 8,176 at Cincinnati Gardens by teaming with veteran ace Jack Twyman to produce a 140-123 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers. The 140 points were the highest ever scored in a single game by the Royals who play the Knickerbockers at New York's Madison Square Garden tonight.

Robertson, playing a brilliant all-around game, tallied eight field goals and went 5-for-5 at the free throw line for 21 points. Twyman, the NBA's second highest scorer last season, connected for 11 field goals and eight of 13 free throws to lead Cincinnati's scoring with 30 points. Elgin Baylor of the Lakers was the game's high scorer with 35.

Robertson, who had 10 assists and led the Royals with 12 rebounds, topped Laker rookie Jerry West, the ex-West Virginia All-American, in their first man-to-man meeting in pro ranks. West scored seven field goals and six free throws for 20 points.

Andrade, Brown In Public Show

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Joe Brown, world lightweight champion, and challenger Cisco Andrade, who will attempt to dethrone him Oct. 28, returned to normal work today.

The two boxers worked out in public Wednesday at the Olympic Auditorium, with ringers giving the edge to Andrade.

TV MATCH SLATED

NEW YORK (UPI) — Phil Boyer of Portland, Ore., will meet Florentino Fernandez of Havana, Cuba in a 10-round nationally televised welterweight bout at Madison Square Garden on Nov. 12.

Houk Named to Succeed Stengel As Yankee Pilot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, a fellow who's made it the hard way all of his baseball life, was named today to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the New York American League Yankees.

The announcement that Stengel's assistant for the past three years will inherit his royal robes, was made by Dan Topping, Yankee president.

IT WAS POSSIBLE that Topping later today would reveal sweeping changes in the Yankee front office which would include the ousting of 66-year-old general manager George Weiss on the same grounds that Tuesday cost Stengel who is 70—that of age.

Weiss, who molded the great Yankee farm system before taking over as general manager in 1947, probably will be succeeded by Roy Harney and Jack White.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPERS were still sending up a storm of criticism over the firing of Stengel today but it was unlikely to disturb the ruggedly built Houk, a World War II hero who has been marked by the Yankees for leadership since 1947.

Houk joined the Yankees that year along with Yogi Berra, in whose shadow he was to play off and on throughout his career. Between 1947 and 1954 Houk played in only 91 games and had only a .272 batting average. He appeared only twice in World Series games—once in 1947 and again in 1952—and made one hit.

Houk moved out as a player in 1955 and became manager of the Yankees' Denver farm club in the American Association. He managed Denver for three years, finishing third once and second twice before returning in 1958 as a Yankee coach.

HOUK'S MAJOR LEAGUE managerial "career" consists of 12 games during which he ran the team while Stengel was sick this season. He quickly demonstrated his "take-charge" qualities by putting catcher Johnny Blanchard and third baseman Cletis Boyer in the lineup. The team won six and lost six under his leadership but bringing Blanchard and Boyer to the fore was considered an important move in the Yankees' ultimate pennant victory.

During World War II, Houk rose from a private to a major in the Rangers and fought with tremendous courage at such places as Bastogne, the Bulge and the Remagen Bridge.

Cincinnati Golfer Is Winner in PGA Ace Contest

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Bud Dulle, a 22-year-old college student from Cincinnati, was named today as winner of the fourth annual national hole-in-one contest sponsored by the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

Dulle used a 4-iron to score his winning ace on the 219-yard third hole at Cincinnati's Hyde Park Golf and Country Club. The contest, held on Labor Day, was open to all club members whose PGA professional entered his club or course in the event.

Leonard B. Schmutte, chairman of the PGA hole-in-one committee, said today that upwards of 113,000 golfers competed this year on 568 courses throughout the country. Of this number, four players reported holes-in-one.

Other than Dulle, aces were recorded by Jack Wuestling of Normandy, Mo. (175 yards), Johnny Poutra of Orange, Tex. (165 yards) and W. R. Johnson of Riverside, Calif. (155 yards).

Second All-Star Game Dates Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced Wednesday that the second All-Star game in 1961 will be played in Boston, on Monday, July 31. The first game is scheduled for San Francisco on Tuesday, July 11.

Bowl Names Elliott

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Pete Elliott, head football coach at the University of Illinois, has been named coach of the National All-Stars in the third annual Copper Bowl game to be played at the University of Arizona stadium in Tempe, Ariz., Dec. 31.

40,000 Race Fans to See Monterey Event

MONTEREY (UPI) — The Monterey Peninsula prepared today to handle more than 40,000 visitors during the week-end for the $20,000 Pacific Grand Prix on the Laguna Seca course.

Chamber of Commerce officials estimated that the biggest crowd in the history of this sports-loving area would invade the peninsula to see the world's greatest drivers in competition.

Headlining the cast will be the 1960 international driving champion, Jack Brabham of Australia. The No. 2 man, Bruce McLaren of New Zealand will be in the competition. So will Phil Hill of Santa Monica, the leading U. S. threat, who ranks No. 3.

Other top drivers include Stirling Moss of England, generally regarded as the world's No. 1 driver; Roger Ward of Indianapolis; Augie Pabst of Milwaukee; and Bill Krause of Long Beach, winner of last week's race at Riverside.

Five races are set for Saturday afternoon. There will be qualifying Sunday morning, then the first and second heats of the Grand Prix, starting at 2 p.m.

National Senior Open Plans Start Rolling

Announcements of the Fourth Annual United States Senior Open Golf Championship to be held on three desert area courses in December, went out in the mails this week to golfers all over the nation. Dates for the tournament are December 6 to 11.

The tournament this year, the second time it will be held in the Palm Springs area, will be played over Eldorado Country Club, La Quinta Country Club and Bermuda Dunes Country Club May 6 to 11.

LAST YEAR, the tournament was staged on two local courses, Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado with 540 entrants alternating on courses and days for the 54-hole contest.

Willie Goggin is the defending champion.

The tournament, sponsored by the National Senior Golf Association of which George Howard, pro at O'Donnell Golf Club for more than a quarter century, is president, attracts senior golfers—over 50, from all points in the nation and abroad.

MOST OF THE nation's top pros, who are now qualified for senior competition—over 50 years of age—are expected among the entrants as well as over 50 amateurs from every part of the nation, Europe, Mexico, Canada and other foreign clubs.

Essegian, Noren Released by L. A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The pinch-hit hero of the 1959 World Series, Chuck Essegian, was sold to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League, and veteran Irv Noren was given his release Wednesday by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Club vice president E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi announced Noren, former American League outfielder, had requested he be released to concentrate on his business activities.

FIRST DAY of the tournament proper, December 6, has been set aside for a Pro-Am event. December 7 will be a day of rest and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday December 8, 9 and 10, there will be 54 holes of competition to determine the U. S. National Senior Open Golf Association champion in the amateur division.

Sunday, December 11, lowest 89 scores and ties from 54 hole competition will play the Bermuda Dunes course to complete the 72-hole U. S. National Senior Open Golf Association Championship for the A. K. Bourns Trophy.

FOR THE PROS there is a $20,000-added pot and for the amateurs, handsome prizes.

There are seven age brackets with prizes in each—50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79 and 80 and over.

Many social events have been arranged for the senior golfers from all over the nation and their wives.

MASTER SERGEANT D. R. FISH places a five-minute time fuse to 27 rounds of "duds". The shells are packed down with a high explosive in which the detonators are stabbed. Marine Corps teams range the Twentynine Palms firing area daily in search of undetonated shells. (Official USMC Photo).

RATHER THAN LEAVE scrap shells scattered throughout the firing areas, the projectiles are collected during regular "searches" and stacked while Hospitalman J. W. McLaughlin looks on. Gunner J. L. Scott, with seven years experience in demolitions, unloads a collection of the shells at several points around the ranges. (Official USMC Photo)

NOT ENTITLED TO 'MISTAKES'

Six Marines Play Deadly Game With 'Dud' Shells

By PVT. TOM POLSTON
TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif.—The phrase "Everyone's entitled to one mistake" doesn't apply to everyone after all. Those excluded from using it are the Marines who form the Explosive Ordnance Disposal Section here.

Nearly 30 years experience is shared by an officer and five staff noncommissioned officers in the section. Their duties are to clear approximately 400 square miles of target area where aircraft, tanks, artillery mortars and foot troops pour thousands of pounds of ammunition.

THE DISPOSAL TEAM works directly with and for the Marine Corps Base G-3 Section, where EOD personnel learn daily what areas are open to be cleared. Averaging five hours a day, four days a week, the small unit places nearly 2,000 miles on their two trucks every month over the various ranges.

Not all their search is done by truck, for sometimes they "take-to-the-hills" a spot where the vehicles cannot possibly go. Doing this requires a re-sooling and reheeling of their boots at least three times a year.

OTHER DUTIES OF the EOD team are to guide visitors, who are interested in the mines, around the deserts and mountains. They have also guided interested parties to a crashed helicopter on which they might place a bid for salvage.

Quite often a report is received from nearby towns where ordnance material has been found. The team always make a trip to pick it up. Their latest trip, made by Gunner Sergeant S. L. Sherwood, was to India where a lady had a Simulator (about the size of a standard flashlight) and turned it over to the police.

Being on the Explosive Ordnance Disposal team is strictly voluntary. They can request and receive a reassignment any time they prefer.

THE PERSONNEL OF this team are schooled trained at the U. S. Naval School, Explosive Ordnance Disposal, at Indian Head, Maryland. They are compensated with hazardous duty pay which is, per month, $110 for officers and $55 for enlisted personnel, regardless of rank in each category.

Much of their work includes receiving phone calls from personnel reporting a "dud" had been found. The location of the shell is plotted on a large map of the firing areas and sought out during a regular "search."

Most shells lay on top of the ground and rarely bury themselves while bombs usually sink beneath the surface of the earth.

THEIR GREATEST efforts are to ensure that all people in the firing areas are aware of the danger they face when they encounter an item of unexploded ordnance. They wish all the "finders" would phone Extension 285 at the Base to report on the location of the shell.

Their advice is on a poster in their office:

If you pick up duds in the field It may be your life or limb you yield

So if you want to stay alive Don't be a dud, call Two-Eight-Five.

BARGAIN HUNTERS GET BIG CHANCE AT ST. THERESA'S

The bargain basement shoppers will head for St. Theresa's School again Friday when the regular weekly rummage sale is sponsored by the St. Theresa's Mothers Club.

The rummage, which is conducted from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., each Friday, features a wide variety of articles — all at preinflation prices.

The public is invited to join in the rush for the bargains each week.

Escrow Meeting Lures Six Villagers

Six Palm Springs escrow officers will journey to the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills Saturday to attend a meeting of the California Escrow Association.

In attendance will be Eunice Tiss, Pearson, Scott and Company; Helen Paterson, Security First National Bank; Ann Keenan, Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan Association; Thelma Good, Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association; Betsy McKinney, Bank of America, and Christine Penn Sornland Escrow Corporation.

The attendees are all members of the Riverside County Escrow Association, which is a member of the California organization. Eunice Tiss is the RCEA representative on the state board. All title companies are to be represented at the session.

KITCHENS

Engineers have keyed kitchen design to provide a maximum amount of space and yet cut walking time in half! Well planned arrangement of major kitchen appliances, plus easily accessible storage units for pots, pans and the myriad of small cooking essentials keep everything within easy reach.

TO THE WOMAN living in a conventional home, perhaps the most impressive feature of a mobile home kitchen is the tremendous amount of storage space it contains. Built-in cabinets, especially crafted of the finest woods at the factory provide ample room for the storage of dishes, glassware, linens, canned and packaged foods and serving utensils. Designers have made a mathematical and artistic triumph out of the use of space that was once written off as waste area. The narrow space between built-in appliances becomes a closet for mops, brooms, waxes, and all those elongated cleaning devices.

AN INSPIRATIONAL [over] rack at the side of the sink keeps towels dry and handy. All those hooks and crannies which are usually dust catchers in most kitchens have become storage chests for odds-and-ends such as: card tables, TV trays, and folding chairs. You may even choose the color of your kitchen. Drapes, ferns, counter tops, floor covering, tile and even appliances may be color matched — or contrasted — to suit individual taste.

STILL OTHER useful appliances are a slide-out ceiling board and built-in spice rack. 5 m a 11 built-in planter boxes often serve a dual purpose. Although the primary function is that of a room divider, many gourmands use the planter as an indoor herb garden. Even the most individualistic housewife may assert her personality in the decoration of her mobile kitchen and develop her epicurean talents to their fullest degree.

A HOUSEWIFE RELAXES in modern living room to be featured at from provincial to modern will be on display in $300,000 exhibit. The Trailer Life Show at the Peco Grounds Oct. 20-22. All decor.

NO MORE SOLOS Family Travel To Stay

The day has arrived when the head of the household can no longer convince the wife and kids that he should solo on that fishing or hunting trip because "roughing it" is a man's cup of tea. This "male superiority" approach was fine until the modern trailer made it possible to take the Kitchen sink and the all-electric Kitchen — and even a built-in laundry! — to the most remote canyon or lake.

THE LATEST IN all travel trailers will be on display at the Trailer Life Show at the Peco Grounds 7:30 to Sunday. If all the conveniences of home were going along with the breadwinner, the little woman reasoned that she and the children would fit into the picture. And they have! This season alone, a third of a million seek travel trailers for a week out the nation's hunting, fishing and general vacation resorts, and the family will be there.

Lawmakers Up On Mobile Life

Legislators and state government agencies throughout the West are probably better informed about "mobile living" than the populace at large.

The reason: lawmakers in Oregon, Washington, Texas, Idaho, and California have long recognized the need for laws and regulations covering a category of society that numbers more than three million persons in just the states named.

SIGNIFICANTLY, THE laws enacted have, year by year, reflected the growing recognition of a new way of life and the increasing public responsibility exhibited by what was an infant industry as recently as 10 years ago.

This industry, through organizations like Trailer Coach Association, has adopted a policy of self-policing — working with state departments of housing, highway and building, health, safety and fire, and state departments for plumbing, heating, wiring and

WAY OF LIFE HAS ITS OWN GLOSSARY

Moves to a new location on an average of 2.6 years.

TRAVEL TRAILER: A trailer from 15-35 feet in length, with adequate living quarters, used mainly for family vacation trips or weekend outings. Will go anywhere your car will go.

TRAILERIST: One who travels with a trailer. (The suffix is common to many terms relating to motorist.) A TRAILERITE lives more or less permanently in a park, probably in a mobile home.

CARAVAN: A scheduled movement of several trailers (from five to 200) over the same route to the same rendezvous sites and ultimate destination. Trailers in caravans do not travel too closely, but are spaced to permit free flow of faster traffic.

RALLY: A meeting of many trailerists and/or travel trailer clubs. A rally usually offers a planned program of activities.

MODERN MOBILE homes, featuring deluxe kitchens complete with built-in appliances, formica counter tops, garbage disposals and spacious cabinets, will be on display at the Polo Grounds from Oct. 20 to 23. The free exhibit offers an excellent opportunity for housewives to examine the latest model homes on wheels.

Mobile Kitchens Exciting

By JOAN FARLEY

Mobile home kitchens are challenging their counterparts in conventional homes. The modern housewife, with numerous demands on her time, insists on a kitchen that not only meets the daily requirements as a cooking center, but one that is pleasing to the eye and arranged for greatest efficiency.

Investigation of the many mobile homes on display at the Polo Grounds from Oct. 20 to 23, will show how mobile home kitchens not only meet these demands but exceed them.

STANDARD FEATURES in mobile home kitchens are famous name appliances, full-sized ranges, built-in ovens and broilers, twin sinks, full-sized refrigerators with separate freezer and garbage disposals.
